

Dungeon Pulp

WHAT IS THIS?

STRANGE HOUSE x D x A x VALLEY

You made an awful pact with some foul being and now it's time to pay the price. You must run through the acid-corrupted dungeon and emerge on the other side so your horrid patron can harvest this substance from your luckless body. Whatever loot you find, you keep.

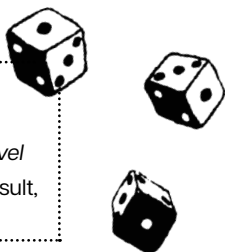

This is a pencil and paper dungeon crawling game for one player. In this game you'll be rolling dice to determine the things your character faces, battling creatures, dodging traps and looting items. DUNGEON PULP uses three 6-sided dice, two in a light colour, and one in a dark colour. You'll also need a pencil and eraser.

Xd6 = roll a number of 6-sided dice, e.g.

2d6 = roll two 6-sided dice

LVLd6 = roll a number of dice equal to your Level

d6+X = add a number (modifier) to the total result, e.g. d6+2 = roll one 6-sided die and add 2

SETUP

Create a character using the Character Creation instructions, and record the details in the Character box on the separate map sheet.

CHARACTER CREATION

Choose your character type:

BRIGAND

[easy]

start with:
plate armour (+1 DEF)
greatsword (2 DMG)

KNAVE

[medium]

start with:
robe (+0 DEF)
bent sword (1 DMG)

WRETCH

[hard]

start with:
greasy tunic (-1 DEF)
a stick (1 DMG)

CHARACTER CREATION (CONT.)

1. Give your character a name and add:
 - Health (HP) = 6 (of 6)
 - Acid = 0
 - Level (LVL) = 0
2. Add values for Defense (DEF) & weapon Damage (DMG), and list the related gear beside them
3. Gain a spell from the Spells table (overpage, folded out)
4. Add starting gold pieces (GP): roll 3d6 to determine how many
5. Buy gear using Items table (overpage...). You have 6 available slots

EXPLORING THE DUNGEON

Use pencil to track your progress through the dungeon map. Each time you move into a new, adjacent room you'll follow this process:

1. Roll 3d6 and consult the Random Encounter table (overpage...)
2. Deal with the encounter. Most of the results on the Random Encounter table lead you to roll on other tables
3. Roll 1d6 on the Loot table (overpage, folded out)
4. Use Location Notes (map sheet) to keep track of things

COMBAT

Enemies have a threat rating and health points (HP), e.g...

1/2 = (1 threat/2 HP)

In battle your light coloured dice represent your attack and your dark die represents your defense.

Follow these steps:

1. Roll the two light dice and the dark die
2. Add your current level (LVL) to each light die
 - For each result that's the same or higher than the enemies' threat rating, reduce one of those enemy's HP by your damage (DMG)
 - If you reduce the enemies' HP to 0, you win the encounter. Stop rolling and go to Step 4.

CRITICAL HITS

A die result of 6 (without modifiers) is a critical hit, and is always successful regardless of enemy threat rating. Deal damage and reroll any 6s for the chance of bonus damage. Reroll any subsequent 6s and so on.

COMBAT (CONT.)

3. Check the dark die's result versus the enemy's threat rating
 - If the result (plus any modifiers you have to DEF) is the same or higher than the rating, you successfully avoid getting hit
 - If the result is lower, you get hit. Lose 1 HP
 - A result of 1 (ignoring modifiers) is always a fail. Reduce your HP by 1, add 1 Acid to your character and mark the room on the map with *
 - If you choose you can flee to the room you came from. The enemies get one last attack. Roll the dice again and only determine success/failure for the dark die. Make a note of the remaining enemies and their stats in case you return to this room
 - If your character's HP is reduced to 0, they die.
4. Enemies are more likely to carry good loot. If you defeat all the enemies in an encounter, add a +1 modifier to your subsequent roll on the Loot table.

FUMBLES

Whether it's the light or dark dice, a roll of 1 in combat always raises your Acid level by 1 and marks the room you're in on the map with *

COMBAT (EXAMPLE)

I move to a new room on the map and roll for a Random Encounter:

Creature. I roll on the Creatures table: 1d6 x gargoyles (3/2). I roll a single die (1d6) to see how many gargoyles there are: 2.

Combat starts. I roll all three dice. My light dice show 6 and 2. My LVL is 0 so I do not add a modifier. I get one successful hit. My greatsword deals 2 DMG, killing one gargoyle. As I rolled a 6 (a critical hit), I get to reroll that die. I roll a 1 – I miss and I have to add 1 Acid to my character.

The dark die shows 2, but I have a +1 DEF modifier so the total is 3: enough to avoid getting hit. That's one round of combat over so I reroll all three dice and see if I can finish off the remaining gargoyle.

RESTING & LURKERS

You may rest in a room that is empty of threats but must check if you encounter Lurkers – the creatures in the top row of the Enemies table. Roll 1d6. On a result of 1, you encounter the left ones. On a result of 2, you encounter the right ones. You must defeat them before resting. Otherwise, you rest undisturbed. Increase your HP by 1 or reduce Acid by 1. If you revisit an empty room, make the same check for Lurkers.

LVL & ACID FALLOUT

The first time you enter each room marked +1, add 1 to your LVL and check for Acid Fallout: roll 2d6. If the result is less than your Acid level, you're afflicted with a Fallout effect. Consult this table with result:

2	Fog : Always make Loot rolls twice, take the lower result
3 to 4	Reek : You always encounter lurkers when resting
5 to 6	Fugue : You always forget spells after casting them
7 to 8	Botch : Lose items from one slot
9 to 10	Limp : Lower DEF by 1
11 to 12	Fever : Lower max. HP by 1

RANDOM ENCOUNTERS

Roll 3d6 to see what you encounter:

3 to 6	Empty
7 to 9	Trap
10 to 14	Creature (see map sheet)
15 to 18	Special event (see map sheet)

TRAPS

Encountering traps works just like combat but you only ever need to make 1 successful hit to disarm them, and you don't get the +1 modifier to your subsequent roll on the Loot table.

Roll 1d6 on column 1 and then column 2. Combine to see what trap you face. Words in brackets = Tags. Numbers in brackets = threat ratings.

	1	2
1	Precarious	Log (2)
2	Greased (foul)	Platform (3)
3	Swinging (fast)	Passage (4)
4	Spiked (honed)	Blades (4)
5	Poison (toxic)	Contraption (5)
6	Flaming (burning)	Statue (6)

LOOT

Roll 1d6 to see whether you find gold or an item. If gold, then roll LVLd6 for amount (if your LVL is 0 you find d6 halved (rounded up)).

1 to 2	Nothing
3 to 5	Gold
6+	Item

SPELLS

When you gain a spell, roll 1d6+LVL to determine what it is. Attack spells act like weapons but damage all enemies in an encounter. Spells that raise DEF last for a single encounter. You can use a spell at any time, but it adds 1 Acid to your character. You can have as many spells as you can fit into the item slots in your Character box.

1	Stupefying Aura	Enemies miss 1 turn
2	Guiding Shadow	+1 for next Item roll
3	Spirit Surge	Remove 1 Acid Fallout effect
4	Shocking Ray	Attack spell: DMG = 1
5	Stone Shield	Raise DEF +1
6	Inner Sanctum	Regain 1 HP
7	Scorching Storm	Attack spell: DMG = LVL
8	Ghost Step	Raise DEF +LVL
9+	Dimension Drain	Ignore all tags this encounter

ITEMS

Roll 1d6+LVL, and then roll 1d6 to see which column to use. Gold values are provided in square brackets for buying/selling. You can have multiple small items in the same item slot, but you must remove one after each use. Items can be used during combat.

	1 to 3	4 to 6
1	Salve (heal 1 HP, small) [5gp]	Incense (avoid 1 lurker check, small) [5gp]
2	Tonic (remove 1 Acid, small) [5gp]	Antidote (pass 1 toxic check, small) [8gp]
3	Metal rod (disarm 1 trap, small) [10gp]	Strange poultice (remove 1 Acid Fallout effect, small) [10gp]
4	Helmet (avoid 1 DMG, breaks after use) [10gp]	Holy water (instantly kills 1 undead creature, small) [12gp]
5	Shield (avoid 2 DMG, breaks after use) [20gp]	Shadow powder (enemies miss 1 turn, small) [15gp]
6	Rotten grease (apply to weapon to give +1 DMG, small) [30gp]	Spell scroll (gain 1 new random spell, small) [30gp]
7	Trickster's Diadem (choose to reroll 1 result each encounter) [100gp]	Wicked staff (1 DMG, can kill undead enemies) [90gp]
8	Battleaxe (2 DMG) [150gp]	Map (+1 to Loot rolls) [120gp]
9+	Armour of the Ancients (+2 DEF) [250gp]	Godfell Flail (2 DMG, critical hit on 5s and 6s) [200gp]

TAGS

Some traps and creatures have special traits:

- burning: forfeit one round of attacking to put out fire or else lose 1 HP each round (damage happens before rolling for new round)
- epic: attacks twice each round (roll dark die twice), inflicts 2 DMG per successful attack
- fast: for the first round of an encounter only determine success/failure for dark die (you do not attack this round)
- foul: after encounter gain 1 Acid
- honed: ignore your DEF bonus (if it is positive)
- jumpy: 50% chance of fleeing at half health (use 1d6)
- laden: roll twice for loot when defeated
- staunch: unaffected by spells
- toxic: if hit by creature, make a 1d6 roll. If the result is less than their threat rating, take 1 extra DMG.
- undead: will reanimate after you leave the room unless defeated with spell damage

QUICK RULES REFERENCE

Use this during play to remind yourself of the rules.

Exploring (when you enter a new, adjacent room):

- Roll 3d6 on Random Encounter table
- Deal with encounter
- Roll 1d6 on Loot table (+1 if encounter was combat)
- Use Location Notes (map sheet) to keep track of things

If encounter is combat:

- Roll the two light dice and the dark die
- For each light die result + LVL ≥ enemy threat, reduce an enemy's HP by your damage (DMG)
- If dark die result < enemy threat, reduce your HP by 1
- If you defeat all enemies, gain +1 to subsequent Loot roll

If encounter is trap:

Follow same process as Combat, except only a single successful hit is needed to disarm trap. You do not get a bonus to your Loot roll.

If you are retreating back to room you came from:

Roll dark die to determine if you get hit one last time.

Critical hits & fumbles during combat/trap encounters:

6 on a die is always a success. If light die, reroll 6s for bonus damage. 1 on a die is always a fail. Gain 1 Acid and mark room with ✱ fool!

You dare enter the godforsaken pit?

That foul beast writhes in that black muck.

They say the acid fuses soul and skull alike, that your entire being will quiver like a struck axe.

What corrupted flesh remains the DEFILER shall feast upon.
